

...unspoken elegance and comfort

From the bath, your bare foot steps onto the heated marble floor and you are reminded, once again, of the luxury that surrounds you. A fresh towel means housekeeping was here again, but when? Is there anything more enjoyable or decadent than an afternoon nap, stretched out under our European goose down comforters while Gore Creek sings outside your window. Your suite is so spacious and inviting, the view so inspiring, there's absolutely no rush to leave. Wouldn't the soaking tub feel wonderful right now? Dinner's in the hotel tonight so there's plenty of time to relax by the fire. Your schedule is your own and we're right on it, with pleasure. The reward for us comes when we can take that extra step that will truly distinguish your Sonnenalp experience from any other.
