Yonder House + Sonnenalp Hotel

Yonder House is a full scale, quirky design house curating thoughtful events, impactful installations, and colorful content. We specialize in a holistic, cohesive vision that tells a unique story through floral, furniture and custom decor. Yonder House highly values creativity, innovation and personal connection when designing for our clients. We believe in love in all its many forms and celebrations as an extension of that love. Our team was honored to be named to Harper's Bazaar Top 25 Florists in the country.

Sonnenalp Hotel's roots run deep. No one ever imagined the Sonnenalp would be in Vail. When the small bed and breakfast that inspired the Sonnenalp first opened in Germany in the early years of the 20th century, Vail wasn't even on the map. As that humble German inn transformed into what would become a celebrated hotel and resort, its founders envisioned bringing their legacy of European hospitality and superior guest service to the United States. In the 1960s, the burgeoning village at the base of the Vail Ski Resort became the ideal location.

Vail and Sonnenalp grew up together. The modest lodge our founders established 40 years ago led to the hotel and resort that rests at the heart of Vail Valley today – a renowned, destination intertwined in the fabric of an iconic community. Even though the two hotels are a world apart, they share a welcoming spirit cultivated by a history of family ownership and management that makes staying at the Sonnenalp an unforgettable resort experience.
